

HIP 'N' HAPPENING

AhmedabadMirror 12
SATURDAY, JANUARY 23, 2016
www.ahmedabadmirror.com/city amfeatures@timesgroup.in

Started Off on a High Note

INAUGURATION Kicking off its three-day festival on Friday, the School of Petroleum Management, Pandit Deendayal Petroleum University (PDU), organised a series of lectures where experts from different fields spoke to students. From speaking about the recent developments in solar research to persisting in the quest for truth, speakers like Ravi Shankar (collector, Gandhinagar) and professor T Harinarayana (director, Gujarat Energy Research and Management Institute, Research Innovation and Incubation Centre, Gandhinagar) shared their experiences with students. The crowd puller, however, was television actor Manoj Joshi who shared his views about Chanakya's teachings; he plays the role of the legendary philosopher, teacher, economist in the serial Chakravartin Ashoka Samrat.